

Maura Lanahan and Nathan Jones

Wedding: August 27, 2011 Married and Celebrated: Casa del Mar in Santa Monica

Maura and Nathan were already living the dream, with a house on the beach in Marina del Rey and two beautiful sons. They decided it was time to take the next step: a wedding ceremony that was truly a celebration of family. The Casa Del Mar, with its beachfront locale and stunningly dramatic chandeliers, embodied the California chic vibe the couple was seeking. The ceremony was designed to create a loving environment with thoughtful touches, such as the guests enveloping Maura and Nathan in a circular seating arrangement, and friends and family singing the "Bridal Chorus" as Maura walked down the aisle with her father. Maura and Nathan had their sons stand with them as the couple recited original vows. The intimate feeling continued into the reception with the guests seated at long tables and the addition of lounge furniture placed around the room to create cozy conversation spots. Tall, whimsical centerpieces and a cool palette of grays lightly accented with yellow created the perfect setting for a day filled with warmth and love.
